(54) IMAGE FORMING DEVICE MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

(57)Abstract:

PURPOSE: To eliminate a problem due to operation mistake by devising the system such that information is automatically down-loaded or up-loaded.

CONSTITUTION: A management equipment 141 discriminates it that a copying machine (image forming device) 1 is inactivated to send automatically information relating to image forming to the copying machine 1 via a communication control unit 144, an exchange 143 and a telephone line 142 and stores the information to its storage means in down-loading. The management equipment 141 allows each copying machine 1 to send automatically the information relating to image forming stored in the storage means and stores the information to its own storage means at an optimum time except the case that the copying machine 1 is being adjusted, in use or might be used with high probability in up-loading.
